^a Computed on true discount basis.

^b Beginning with the statement for December 31, 1958, the computed average interest rate on the public debt is based upon the rate of effective yield for issues sold at premiums or discounts. Prior to December 31, 1958, the computed average rate was based upon the coupon rates of the securities. This rate did not materially differ from the rate computed on the basis of effective yield. The Treasury, however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will reflect more accurately the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

the daily and monthly Treasury statements; no single copies are sold.

This statement contains the final figures showing budget results for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1960. The differences between the final results as shown in this statement and the preliminary figures released in July are due to inclusion in the final accounts of Government collecting and disbursing agencies certain receipts and disbursements, including overseas transactions, reports of which were not available when the preliminary statement was released.

In accordance with the plan stated in the President's budget message of January 18, 1960, the customary totals of budget receipts and expenditures are revised to show the elimination from these totals of interest payments and minor amounts of certain other interfund payments by Government agencies to Treasury. This elimination does not affect the size of the budget surplus or deficit.

^a Computed on true discount basis.

however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will reflect more accurately the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

FOOTNOTES

*From revised budget estimates released October 4, 1960.
 From 1961 Budget Document released January 18, 1960.
 1 Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See headnote.
 2 For details of deductions from receipts see Table III, and for details of deductions from expenditures see Table X.
 3 For details see Table III.
 4 Represents mainly interest payments by Government Corporations and agencies that borrow from the Treasury (see headnote p. 1). The interfund transactions now being deducted from Budget receipts and expenditures do not include payments to the Treasury by wholly-owned Government Corporations for retirement of their capital stock and for disposition of earnings. These capital transfers have been excluded from Budget receipts and expenditures since July 1, 1948.

 5 Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on June 30, 1960 amounted to $405,638,299.83. Statutory debt limit was established at $285 billion by the Act approved June 30, 1959. The limit, including temporary increases, was $290 billion on June 30, 1959 and $295 billion from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960. From July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961 the limit, including a temporary increase of $8 billion, is $293 billion. Thereafter it will revert to $285 billion.

^a Computed on true discount basis.

however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will reflect more accurately the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

FOOTNOTES

* From 1961 Budget Document released January 18, 1960.
1 Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See headnote.
2 These figures are preliminary and will be revised and published in a final statement which will include certain overseas and other transactions as reported in final reports of Government collecting and disbursing agencies.
3 For details of deductions from receipts see Table III, and for details of deductions from expenditures see Table X.
4 For details see Table III.
5 Represents mainly interest payments by Government Corporations and agencies that borrow from the Treasury (see headnote p. 1). The interfund transactions now being deducted from Budget receipts and expenditures do not include payments to the Treasury by wholly-owned Government Corporations for retirement of their capital stock and for disposition of earnings. These capital transfers have been excluded from Budget receipts and expenditures since July 1, 1948.

6 Transactions cover the period July 1 through 22, 1960, and are partially estimated.
7 Represents expenditure adjustments reported by Regional Disbursing Officers which have not yet been picked up in reports of other officers.
8 Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on July 31, 1960 amounted to $404,548,875. Statutory debt limit was established at $285 billion by the Act approved June 30, 1959. The limit, including temporary increases, was $290 billion on June 30, 1959 and $295 billion from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960. From July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961 the limit, including a temporary increase of $8 billion, is $293 billion. Thereafter it will revert to $285 billion.

¹⁴ The greater part of Bureau of Public Roads expenditures are made from Highway trust fund, p. 10.

represent the expenditures as recorded in books of account of the Departments and do not include any adjustments for comparability.

¹⁶ Represents net cash transactions under provisions of Sec. 2(a)(3) of Public Law 85-141, approved August 14, 1957.

¹⁷ Report of expenditures was not received in time to be included in this statement.

¹⁸ Transactions cover the period July 1 through 22, 1960, and are partially estimated.

¹⁹ Gives effect to reimbursements collected for administrative support furnished to other agencies amounting to approximately $5,479,080.

²⁰ Expenditures are stated on an accrual basis.

²¹ Represents expenditure adjustments reported by Regional Disbursing Officers which have not yet been picked up in reports of other officers.

²² Includes $2,500,000 appropriated by Public Law 86-626, approved July 12, 1960.

²⁴ Further breakdown of this classification is not available in time for publication in this statement.

²⁵ Represents changes in cash on hand, in banks held outside the Treasurer's account, deposits in transit and cash payments not yet covered by vouchers processed through accounts.

In accordance with the plan stated in the President's budget message of January 18, 1960, the customary totals of budget receipts and expenditures are revised to show the elimination from these totals of interest payments and minor amounts of certain other interfund payments by Government agencies to Treasury. This elimination does not affect the size of the budget surplus or deficit.

^a Computed on true discount basis.

however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will reflect more accurately the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

FOOTNOTES

* From 1961 Budget Document released January 18, 1960.
¹ Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See headnote.
² These figures are preliminary and will be revised and published in a final statement which will include certain overseas and other transactions as reported in final reports of Government collecting and disbursing agencies.
³ For details of deductions from receipts see Table III, and for details of deductions from expenditures see Table X.
⁴ For details see Table III.
⁵ Represents mainly interest payments by Government Corporations and agencies that borrow from the Treasury (see headnote p. 1). The interfund transactions now being deducted from Budget receipts and expenditures do not include payments to the Treasury by wholly-owned Government Corporations for retirement of their capital stock and for disposition of earnings. These capital transfers have been excluded from Budget receipts and expenditures since July 1, 1948.

⁶ Transactions cover the period July 1 through August 19, 1960, and are partially estimated.
⁷ Represents expenditure adjustments reported by Regional Disbursing Officers which have not yet been picked up in reports of other officers.

In accordance with the plan stated in the President's budget message of January 18, 1960, the customary totals of budget receipts and expenditures are revised to show the elimination from these totals of interest payments and minor amounts of certain other interfund payments by Government agencies to Treasury. This elimination does not affect the size of the budget surplus or deficit.

^a Computed on true discount basis.

however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will reflect more accurately the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

FOOTNOTES

* From revised budget estimates released October 4, 1960.
¹ Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See headnote.
² These figures are preliminary and will be revised and published in a final statement which will include certain overseas and other transactions as reported in final reports of Government collecting and disbursing agencies.
³ For details of deductions from receipts see Table III, and for details of deductions from expenditures see Table X.
⁴ For details see Table III.
⁵ Represents mainly interest payments by Government Corporations and agencies that borrow from the Treasury (see headnote p. 1). The interfund transactions now being deducted from Budget receipts and expenditures do not include payments to the Treasury by wholly-owned Government Corporations for retirement of their capital stock and for disposition of earnings. These capital transfers have been excluded from Budget receipts and expenditures since July 1, 1948.

⁶ Transactions cover the period July 1 through September 16, 1960, and are partially estimated.

In accordance with the plan stated in the President's budget message of January 18, 1960, the customary totals of budget receipts and expenditures are revised to show the elimination from these totals of interest payments and minor amounts of certain other interfund payments by Government agencies to Treasury. This elimination does not affect the size of the budget surplus or deficit.

^a Computed on true discount basis.

however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will reflect more accurately the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

FOOTNOTES

* From revised budget estimates released October 4, 1960.
¹ Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See headnote.
² These figures are preliminary and will be revised and published in a final statement which will include certain overseas and other transactions as reported in final reports of Government collecting and disbursing agencies.
³ For details of deductions from receipts see Table III, and for details of deductions from expenditures see Table X.
⁴ For details see Table III.
⁵ Represents mainly interest payments by Government Corporations and agencies that borrow from the Treasury (see headnote p. 1). The interfund transactions now being deducted from Budget receipts and expenditures do not include payments to the Treasury by wholly-owned Government Corporations for retirement of their capital stock and for disposition of earnings. These capital transfers have been excluded from Budget receipts and expenditures since July 1, 1948.

⁷ Transactions cover the period July 1 through October 14, 1960, and are partially estimated.
⁸ Represents expenditure adjustments reported by Regional Disbursing Officers which have not yet been picked up in reports of other officers.

In accordance with the plan stated in the President's budget message of January 18, 1960, the customary totals of budget receipts and expenditures are revised to show the elimination from these totals of interest payments and minor amounts of certain other interfund payments by Government agencies to Treasury. This elimination does not affect the size of the budget surplus or deficit.

^a Computed on true discount basis.

however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will reflect more accurately the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

FOOTNOTES

* From revised budget estimates released October 4, 1960.

³ For details see Table III.

⁴ Represents mainly interest payments by Government Corporations and agencies that borrow from the Treasury (see headnote p. 1). The interfund transactions now being deducted from Budget receipts and expenditures do not include payments to the Treasury by wholly-owned Government Corporations for retirement of their capital stock and for disposition of earnings. These capital transfers have been excluded from Budget receipts and expenditures since July 1, 1948.

Act Amendments of 1960. These amendments place the Federal unemployment tax receipts in the trust fund and provide for these payments from the fund.

⁶ Transactions cover the period July 1 through November 11, 1960, and are partially estimated.

⁸ Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on November 30, 1960 amounted to $401,984,002. Statutory debt limit was established at $285 billion by the Act approved June 30, 1959. The limit, including temporary increases, was $290 billion on June 30, 1959 and $295 billion from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960. From July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961 the limit, including a temporary increase of $8 billion, is $293 billion. Thereafter, it will revert to $285 billion.

In accordance with the plan stated in the President's budget message of January 18, 1960, the customary totals of budget receipts and expenditures are revised to show the elimination from these totals of interest payments and minor amounts of certain other interfund payments by Government agencies to Treasury. This elimination does not affect the size of the budget surplus or deficit.

^a Computed on true discount basis.

however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will reflect more accurately the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

FOOTNOTES

* From 1962 Budget Document released January 16, 1961.

¹ Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See headnote.

³ For details see Table III.

⁴ Represents mainly interest payments by Government Corporations and agencies that borrow from the Treasury (see headnote p. 1). The interfund transactions now being deducted from Budget receipts and expenditures do not include payments to the Treasury by wholly-owned Government Corporations for retirement of their capital stock and for disposition of earnings. These capital transfers have been excluded from Budget receipts and expenditures since July 1, 1948.

⁵ Excludes estimates for the payment of grants and administrative costs of the employment security programs and the Social Security Act Amendments of 1960. These amendments place the Federal unemployment tax receipts in the trust fund and provide for these payments from the fund.

⁶ Transactions cover the period July 1 through December 9, 1960, and are partially estimated.

⁸ Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on December 31, 1960 amounted to $401,555,376. Statutory debt limit was established at $285 billion by the Act approved June 30, 1959. The limit, including temporary increases, was $290 billion on June 30, 1959 and $295 billion from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960. From July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961 the limit, including a temporary increase of $8 billion, is $293 billion. Thereafter, it will revert to $285 billion.

¹From 1962 Budget Document released January 16, 1961.
²Beginning with the Monthly statement for July 1960, and incorporated in the final statement for the fiscal year 1960 (released December 6, 1960), totals shown for net budget receipts and budget expenditures exclude certain interfund transactions which are included in the detail of both budget receipts and budget expenditures. The transactions deducted consist mainly of interest payments to the Treasury by Government corporations and agencies that borrow from the Treasury (see Table IX page 15, for details). This reporting change does not affect the budget surplus or deficit. The interfund transactions deducted under this procedure do not include the payments to the Treasury by wholly-owned Government corporations for retirement of their capital stock and for disposition of earnings. These capital transfers have been excluded from budget receipts and expenditures since July 1, 1948.
³Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See footnote 1.
⁴For details of deductions from receipts see Table III, and for details of deductions from expenditures see Table X.

⁵For details see Table III.
⁶Excludes estimates for the payment of grants and administrative costs of the employment security programs and the Social Security Act Amendments of 1960. These amendments place the Federal unemployment tax receipts in the trust fund and provide for these payments from the fund.
⁷Transactions cover the period July 1, 1960, through January 6, 1961, and are partially estimated.
⁸Represents expenditure adjustments reported by Regional Disbursing Officers which have not yet been picked up in reports of other officers.
⁹Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on January 31, 1961 amounted to $400,294,433. Statutory debt limit was established at $285 billion by the act approved June 30, 1959. The limit, including temporary increases, was $290 billion on June 30, 1959 and $295 billion from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960. From July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961 the limit, including a temporary increase of $8 billion, is $293 billion. Thereafter, it will revert to $285 billion.

^a Computed on true discount basis.

ever, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will reflect more accurately the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

FOOTNOTES

*From 1962 Budget Document released January 16, 1961.
²Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See footnote 1.
⁴For details see Table III.

⁵Excludes estimates for the payment of grants and administrative costs of the employment security programs and the Social Security Act Amendments of 1960. These amendments place the Federal unemployment tax receipts in the trust fund and provide for these payments from the fund.

⁶Transactions cover the period July 1, 1960, through February 3, 1961, and are partially estimated.

⁷Represents expenditure adjustments reported by Regional Disbursing Officers which have not yet been picked up in reports of other officers.

⁸Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on February 28, 1961 amounted to $399,281,118. Statutory debt limit was established at $285 billion by the act approved June 30, 1959. The limit, including temporary increases, was $290 billion on July 30, 1959 and $295 billion from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960. From July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961 the limit, including a temporary increase of $8 billion, is $293 billion. Thereafter, it will revert to $285 billion.

^a Computed on true discount basis.

ever, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will reflect more accurately the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

FOOTNOTES

*Based on budget messages of the President dated March 24 and March 28, 1961 and the Statement of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget before the Joint Economic Committee on March 27, 1961.

¹Beginning with the Monthly Statement for July 1960, and incorporated in the final statement for the fiscal year 1960 (released December 6, 1960), totals shown for net budget receipts and budget expenditures exclude certain interfund transactions which are included in the detail of both budget receipts and budget expenditures. The transactions deducted consist mainly of interest payments to the Treasury by Government corporations and agencies that borrow from the Treasury (see Table IX page 15, for details). This reporting change does not affect the budget surplus or deficit. The interfund transactions deducted under this procedure do not include payments to the Treasury by wholly-owned Government corporations for retirement of their capital stock and for disposition of earnings. These capital transfers have been excluded from budget receipts and expenditures since July 1, 1948.

²The President's budget messages of March 24 and March 28, 1961 did not include estimates for balance in account of Treasurer, U.S. and public debt outstanding.

³Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See footnote 1.

⁵For details see Table III.

⁶Excludes estimates for the payment of grants and administrative costs of the employment security programs and the Social Security Act Amendments of 1960. These amendments place the Federal unemployment tax receipts in the trust fund and provide for these payments from the fund.

⁷Transactions cover the period July 1, 1960, through March 3, 1961, and are partially estimated.

⁸Represents expenditure adjustments reported by Regional Disbursing Officers which have not yet been picked up in reports of other officers.

⁹Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on March 31, 1961 amounted to $398,265,583. Statutory debt limit was established at $285 billion by the act approved June 30, 1959. The limit, including temporary increases, was $290 billion on June 30, 1959 and $295 billion from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960. From July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961 the limit, including a temporary increase of $8 billion, is $293 billion. Thereafter, it will revert to $285 billion.

^a Computed on true discount basis.

ever, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will reflect more accurately the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

FOOTNOTES

*Based on budget messages of the President dated March 24 and March 28, 1961 and the Statement of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget before the Joint Economic Committee on March 27, 1961.

¹Beginning with the Monthly Statement for July 1960, and incorporated in the final statement for the fiscal year 1960 (released December 6, 1960), totals shown for net budget receipts and budget expenditures exclude certain interfund transactions which are included in the detail of both budget receipts and budget expenditures. The transactions deducted consist mainly of interest payments to the Treasury by Government corporations and agencies that borrow from the Treasury (see Table IX page 15, for details). This reporting change does not affect the budget surplus or deficit. The interfund transactions deducted under this procedure do not include payments to the Treasury by wholly-owned Government corporations for retirement of their capital stock and for disposition of earnings. These capital transfers have been excluded from budget receipts and expenditures since July 1, 1948.

²The President's budget messages of March 24 and March 28, 1961 did not include estimates for balance in account of Treasurer, U. S. and public debt outstanding.

³Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See footnote 1.

⁵For details see Table III.

⁶Transactions cover the period July 1, 1960, through April 28, 1961, and are partially estimated.

⁷Represents expenditure adjustments reported by Regional Disbursing Officers which have not yet been picked up in reports of other officers.

⁸Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on April 30, 1961 amounted to $397,593,025. Statutory debt limit was established at $285 billion by the act approved June 30, 1959. The limit, including temporary increases, was $290 billion on June 30, 1959 and $295 billion from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960. From July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961 the limit, including a temporary increase of $8 billion, is $293 billion. Thereafter, it will revert to $285 billion.

^a Computed on true discount basis.

ever, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will reflect more accurately the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

FOOTNOTES

*Based on budget messages of the President dated March 24 and March 28, 1961 and the Statement of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget before the Joint Economic Committee on March 27, 1961.

² The President's budget messages of March 24, and March 28, 1961 did not include estimates for balance in account of Treasurer, U. S. and public debt outstanding.

³ Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See footnote 1.

⁵ For details see Table III.

⁶ Transactions cover the period July 1, 1960, through May 26, 1961, and are partially estimated.

⁷ Represents expenditure adjustments reported by Regional Disbursing Officers which have not yet been picked up in reports of other officers.

⁸ Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on May 31, 1961 amounted to $396,445,620. Statutory debt limit was established at $285 billion by the act approved June 30, 1959. The limit, including temporary increases, was $290 billion on June 30, 1959 and $295 billion from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960. From July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961 the limit, including a temporary increase of $8 billion, is $293 billion. Thereafter, it will revert to $285 billion.

^a Computed on true discount basis.

ever, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will reflect more accurately the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

FOOTNOTES

* From revised budget estimates released October 29, 1961.
  Based on budget messages of the President dated March 24 and March 28, 1961 and the Statement of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget before the Joint Economic Committee on March 27, 1961.

² The President's budget messages of March 24 and March 28, 1961 did not include estimates for balance in account of Treasurer, U. S. and public debt outstanding.

³ Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See footnote 1.

⁵ For details see Table III.

⁶ Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on June 30, 1961 amounted to $349,291,529.83. Statutory debt limit was established at $285 billion by the act approved June 30, 1959. The limit, including temporary increases, was $290 billion on June 30, 1959 and $295 billion from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960, and $293 billion from July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961. From July 1, 1961, to June 30, 1962, the limit, including a temporary increase of $13 billion, will be $298 billion. Thereafter, it will revert to $285 billion.

^a Computed on true discount basis.

ever, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will reflect more accurately the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

FOOTNOTES

*Based on budget messages of the President dated March 24 and March 28, 1961 and the Statement of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget before the Joint Economic Committee on March 27, 1961, and on the President's report to the nation of July 25, 1961 on the Berlin crisis, and his budgetary amendments submitted to the Congress on July 26, 1961.

² The President's budget messages of March 24 and March 28, and his report to the nation of July 25, 1961, and budgetary amendments submitted to the Congress on July 26 did not include estimates for balance in account of Treasurer U.S. and public debt outstanding.

³ These figures are preliminary and will be revised and published in a final statement which will include certain overseas and other transactions as reported in final reports of Government collecting and disbursing agencies.

⁴ Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See footnote 1.

⁶ For details see table III.

⁷ Transactions cover the period July 1 through 21, 1961, and are partially estimated and includes only one pay period against a normal two pay period basis.

⁸ Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on July 31, 1961 amounted to $444,091,945. Statutory debt limit was established at $285 billion by the act approved June 30, 1959. The limit, including temporary increases, was $290 billion on June 30, 1959 and $295 billion from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960, and $293 billion from July 1, 1960, to June 30, 1961. From July 1, 1961, to June 30, 1962, the limit, including a temporary increase of $13 billion, will be $298 billion. Thereafter, it will revert to $285 billion.

^a Computed on true discount basis.

ever, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will reflect more accurately the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

FOOTNOTES

*Based on budget messages of the President dated March 24 and March 28, 1961 and the Statement of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget before the Joint Economic Committee on March 27, 1961, and on the President's report to the nation of July 25, 1961 on the Berlin crisis, and his budgetary amendments submitted to the Congress on July 26, 1961.

² The President's budget messages of March 24 and March 28, and his report to the nation of July 25, 1961, and budgetary amendments submitted to the Congress on July 26 did not include estimates for balance in account of Treasurer U. S. and public debt outstanding.

⁴ Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See footnote 1.

⁶ For details see table III.

⁷ Transactions cover the period July 1 through August 18, 1961, and are partially estimated.

⁸ Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on July 31, 1961 amounted to $442,443,985. Statutory debt limit was established at $285 billion by the act approved June 30, 1959. The limit, including temporary increases, was $290 billion on June 30, 1959 and $295 billion from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960, and $293 billion from July 1, 1960, to June 30, 1961. From July 1, 1961, to June 30, 1962, the limit, including a temporary increase of $13 billion, will be $298 billion. Thereafter, it will revert to $285 billion.

^a Computed on true discount basis.

ever, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will reflect more accurately the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

FOOTNOTES

*Based on budget messages of the President dated March 24 and March 28, 1961 and the Statement of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget before the Joint Economic Committee on March 27, 1961, and on the President's report to the nation of July 25, 1961 on the Berlin crisis, and his budgetary amendments submitted to the Congress on July 26, 1961.

² The President's budget messages of March 24 and March 28, and his report to the nation of July 25, 1961, and budgetary amendments submitted to the Congress on July 26 did not include estimates for balance in account of Treasurer U. S. and public debt outstanding.

⁴ Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See footnote 1.

⁶ For details see Table III.

⁷ Transactions cover the period July 1 through September 15, 1961, and are partially estimated.

⁸ Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on September 30, 1961 amounted to $441,988,530. Statutory debt limit was established at $285 billion by the act approved June 30, 1959. The limit, including temporary increases, was $290 billion on June 30, 1959 and $295 billion from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960, and $293 billion from July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961. From July 1, 1961, to June 30, 1962, the limit, including a temporary increase of $13 billion, will be $298 billion. Thereafter, it will revert to $285 billion.

^a Computed on true discount basis.

ever, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will reflect more accurately the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

FOOTNOTES

*From revised budget estimates released October 29, 1961.
¹Beginning with the Monthly Statement for July 1960, and incorporated in the final statement for the fiscal year 1960 (released December 6, 1960), totals shown for net budget receipts and budget expenditures exclude certain interfund transactions which are included in the detail of both budget receipts and budget expenditures. The transactions deducted consist mainly of interest payments to the Treasury by Government corporations and agencies that borrow from the Treasury (see Table IX page 15, for details). This reporting change does not affect the budget surplus or deficit. The interfund transactions deducted under this procedure do not include payments to the Treasury by wholly-owned Government corporations for retirement of their capital stock and for disposition of earnings. These capital transfers have been excluded from budget receipts and expenditures since July 1, 1948.
²These figures are preliminary and will be revised and published in a final statement which will include certain overseas and other transactions as reported in final reports of Government collecting and disbursing agencies.

³Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See footnote 1.

⁵For details see Table III.

⁶Transactions cover the period July 1 through October 13, 1961, and are partially estimated.

⁸Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on October 31, 1961 amounted to $439,667,491. Statutory debt limit was established at $285 billion by the act approved June 30, 1959. The limit, including temporary increases, was $290 billion on June 30, 1959 and $295 billion from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960, and $293 billion from July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961. From July 1, 1961 to June 30, 1962, the limit, including a temporary increase of $13 billion, will be $298 billion. Thereafter, it will revert to $285 billion.

^a Computed on true discount basis.

^b Beginning with the statement for December 31, 1958, the computed average interest rate on the public debt is based upon the rate of effective yield for issues sold at premiums or discounts. Prior to December 31, 1958, the computed average rate was based upon the coupon rates of the securities. This rate did not materially differ from the rate computed on the basis of effective yield. The Treasury, however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will reflect more accurately the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

^c Dollar equivalent of certificates issued and payable in the amount of 200,000,000 Swiss francs.

* From revised budget estimates released October 29, 1961.

² Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See footnote 1.

⁴ For details see Table III.

⁵ Transactions cover the period July 1 through November 10, 1961, and are partially estimated.

⁶ Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on November 30, 1961 amounted to $438,962,030. Statutory debt limit was established at $285 billion by the act approved June 30, 1959. The limit, including temporary increases, was $290 billion on June 30, 1959 and $295 billion from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960, and $293 billion from July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961. From July 1, 1961, to June 30, 1962, the limit, including a temporary increase of $13 billion, will be $298 billion. Thereafter, it will revert to $285 billion.

^a Computed on true discount basis.

^b Beginning with the statement for December 31, 1958, the computed average interest rate on the public debt is based upon the rate of effective yield for issues sold at premiums or discounts. Prior to December 31, 1958, the computed average rate was based upon the coupon rates of the securities. This rate did not materially differ from the rate computed on the basis of effective yield. The Treasury, however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will reflect more accurately the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

^c Dollar equivalent of certificates issued and payable in the amount of 200,000,000 Swiss francs.

*From 1963 Budget Document released January 18, 1962.

²Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See footnote 1.

⁴For details see Table III.

⁵Transactions cover the period July 1 through December 8, 1961, and are partially estimated.

⁶Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on December 31, 1961 amounted to $438,403,262. Statutory debt limit was established at $285 billion by the act approved June 30, 1959. The limit, including temporary increases, was $290 billion on June 30, 1959 and $295 billion from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960, and $293 billion from July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961. From July 1, 1961, to June 30, 1962, the limit, including a temporary increase of $13 billion, will be $298 billion. Thereafter, it will revert to $285 billion.

^a Computed on true discount basis.

^b Beginning with the statement for December 31, 1958, the computed average interest rate on the public debt is based upon the rate of effective yield for issues sold at premiums or discounts. Prior to December 31, 1958, the computed average rate was based upon the coupon rates of the securities. This rate did not materially differ from the rate computed on the basis of effective yield. The Treasury, however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will reflect more accurately the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

^c Dollar equivalent of certificates issued and payable in the amount of 200,000,000 Swiss francs.

*From 1963 Budget Document released January 18, 1962.

² Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See footnote 1.

⁴ For details see Table III.

⁵ Transactions cover the period July 1, 1961, through January 5, 1962, and are partially estimated.

⁶ Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on January 31, 1962 amounted to $437,589,736. Statutory debt limit was established at $285 billion by the act approved June 30, 1959. The limit, including temporary increases, was $290 billion on June 30, 1959 and $295 billion from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960, and $293 billion from July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961. From July 1, 1961, to June 30, 1962, the limit, including a temporary increase of $13 billion, will be $298 billion. Thereafter, it will revert to $285 billion.

^aComputed on true discount basis.

^bBeginning with the statement for December 31, 1958, the computed average interest rate on the public debt is based upon the rate of effective yield for issues sold at premiums or discounts. Prior to December 31, 1958, the computed average rate was based upon the coupon rates of the securities. This rate did not materially differ from the rate computed on the basis of effective yield. The Treasury, however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will reflect more accurately the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

*From 1963 Budget Document released January 18, 1962.
² Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See footnote 1.

⁴ For details see Table III.
⁵ Transactions cover the period July 1, 1961, through February 2, 1962, and are partially estimated.
⁶ Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on February 28, 1962 amounted to $437,037,902. Statutory debt limit was established at $285 billion by the act approved June 30, 1959. The limit, including temporary increases, was $290 billion on June 30, 1959 and $295 billion from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960, and $293 billion from July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961. ¹ Beginning with the statement for December 31, 1958, the computed average interest rate on the public debt is based upon the rate of effective yield for issues sold at premiums or discounts. Prior to December 31, 1958, the computed average rate was based upon the coupon rates of the securities. This rate did not materially differ from the rate computed on the basis of effective yield. The Treasury, however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will more accurately reflect the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

² Computed on true discount basis.
³ Statutory debt limit was established at $285 billion by the Act approved June 30, 1959. From July 1, 1960, to June 30, 1961, a temporary $8 billion increase raised the limit to $293 billion; from July 1, 1961, to June 30, 1962, a temporary $13 billion increase is effective, making the limit $298 billion. On July 1, 1962, it will revert to $285 billion.

*From 1963 Budget Document released January 18, 1962.

² Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See footnote 1.

⁴ For details see Table III.

⁵ Transactions cover the period July 1, 1961, through March 30, 1962, and are partially estimated.

⁶ Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on March 31, 1962 amounted to $435,709,352. The statutory debt limitations in effect during the period covered by this table and the date when each became effective are as follows: $290 billion on June 30, 1959; $295 billion on July 1, 1959; $293 billion on July 1, 1960. From July 1, 1961 to March 13, 1962, $298 billion; for the remainder of the fiscal year 1962 the limit is $300 billion. On July 1, 1962, it will revert to $285 billion.

⁷ Revised due to reclassification.

⁶ Distribution between income taxes and employment taxes made in accordance with provisions of Sec. 201 of the Social Security Act as amended for transfer to the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund and the Federal Disability Insurance Trust Fund.

⁷ Beginning with the statement for January 1962, amounts representing refunds of principal for overpayment of taxes formerly reported net of reimbursements from trust fund accounts are now shown on a gross basis. These reimbursements to Internal Revenue Service for refunds are now included and netted with amounts shown for transfers to the respective trust fund accounts.

⁸ Represents appropriations of receipts under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act to the Unemployment Trust Fund as provided under Sec. 901(b) of the Social Security Act, as amended September 13, 1960.

¹⁰ Includes $9,760,779 transferred to Agriculture Department, Food Stamp Program (Sec. 32 of the Act of August 24, 1935, as amended, 7 USC 612). See page 10.

¹¹ Represents residual of gross receipts and expenditures after reduction for certain costs which are included in amounts shown for special activities.

¹³ The greater part of Bureau of Public Roads expenditures are made from Highway Trust Fund, page 11.

¹⁴ Represents estimated adjustments to reclassify expenditures for comparability with the latest approved budget appropriation structure. These adjustments are made between the major categories of expenditures and, therefore, do not affect the total expenditures for military functions. Amounts shown for the respective Departments represent the expenditures as recorded in books of account of the Departments and do not include any adjustments for comparability.

¹⁵ Represents net cash transactions under provisions of Sec. 2(a) (3) of Public Law 85-141, approved August 14, 1957.

¹⁶ Current month transactions cover two full accounting periods, February 3 through March 30, 1962.

¹⁷ Gives effect to reimbursements collected for administrative support furnished to other agencies amounting to approximately $38,311,651.

¹⁸ Expenditures are stated on an accrual basis.

¹ Beginning with the statement for December 31, 1958, the computed average interest rate on the public debt is based upon the rate of effective yield for issues sold at premiums or discounts. Prior to December 31, 1958, the computed average rate was based upon the coupon rates of the securities. This rate did not materially differ from the rate computed on the basis of effective yield. The Treasury, however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will more accurately reflect the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

² Computed on true discount basis.

³ Statutory debt limit, established at $285 billion by the Act approved June 30, 1959, has been temporarily increased as follows: From July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961 to $293 billion; from July 1, 1961 to March 13, 1962 to $298 billion; for the remainder of the fiscal year 1962 the limit is $300 billion. On July 1, 1962 it will revert to $285 billion.

⁴ Dollar equivalent of certificates issued and payable in the amount of 46,500,000,000 Italian lire.

*From 1963 Budget Document released January 18, 1962.
² Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See footnote 1.

⁴ For details see Table III.
⁵ Transactions cover the period July 1, 1961 through April 27, 1962, and are partially estimated.
⁶ Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on April 30, 1962 amounted to $434,992,647. The statutory debt limitations in effect during the period covered by this table and the date when each became effective are as follows: $290 billion on June 30, 1959; $295 billion on July 1, 1959; $293 billion on July 1, 1960. From July 1, 1961 to March 13, 1962, $298 billion; for the remainder of the fiscal year 1962 the limit is $300 billion. On July 1, 1962 it will revert to $285 billion.
⁷ Revised due to reclassification.

⁶ Distribution between income taxes and employment taxes made in accordance with provisions of Sec. 201 of the Social Security Act as amended for transfer to the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund and the Federal Disability Insurance Trust Fund. Individual income taxes withheld have been increased $73,642,730 to correct estimates for quarter ending June 1961 and Individual income taxes other have been decreased $1,821,791 to correct estimates for calendar year 1959 and prior and $448,000,000 for calendar year 1961. The total of the above adjustments ($376,179,060) is shown as an increase of employment taxes under "Federal Insurance Contributions Act and Self-Employment Contributions Act" representing increases in appropriations of $347,622,249 for the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund and $28,556,810 for the Federal Disability Insurance Trust Fund.

⁷ Beginning with the statement for January 1962, amounts representing refunds of principal for overpayment of taxes formerly reported net of reimbursements from trust fund accounts are now shown on a gross basis. These reimbursements to Internal Revenue Service for refunds are now included and netted with amounts shown for transfers to the respective trust fund accounts.

⁸ Represents appropriations of receipts under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act to the Unemployment Trust Fund as provided under Sec. 901(b) of the Social Security Act, as amended September 13, 1960.

¹¹ Includes $10,912,768 transferred to Agriculture Department, Food Stamp Program (Sec. 32 of the Act of August 24, 1935, as amended, 7 USC 612). See page 10.

¹² Represents residual of gross receipts and expenditures after reduction for certain costs which are included in amounts shown for special activities.

¹⁴ The greater part of Bureau of Public Roads expenditures are made from Highway Trust Fund, page 11.

¹⁶ Represents net cash transactions under provisions of Sec. 2(a) (3) of Public Law 85-141, approved August 14, 1957.

¹⁷ Gives effect to reimbursements collected for administrative support furnished to other agencies amounting to approximately $48,781,808.

¹⁸ Expenditures are stated on an accrual basis.

¹ Beginning with the statement for December 31, 1958, the computed average interest rate on the public debt is based upon the rate of effective yield for issues sold at premiums or discounts. Prior to December 31, 1958, the computed average rate was based upon the coupon rates of the securities. This rate did not materially differ from the rate computed on the basis of effective yield. The Treasury, however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will more accurately reflect the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

² Computed on true discount basis.

³ Statutory debt limit, established at $285 billion by the Act approved June 30, 1959, has been temporarily increased as follows: From July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961 to $293 billion; from July 1, 1961 to March 13, 1962 to $298 billion; for the remainder of the fiscal year 1962 the limit is $300 billion. On July 1, 1962 it will revert to $285 billion.

⁴ Dollar equivalent of certificates issued and payable in the amount of 46,500,000,000 Italian lire.

*From 1963 Budget Document released January 18, 1962.
¹Beginning with the Monthly Statement for July 1960, and incorporated in the final statement for the fiscal year 1960 (released December 6, 1960), totals shown for net budget receipts and budget expenditures exclude certain interfund transactions which are included in the detail of both budget receipts and budget expenditures. The transactions deducted consist mainly of interest payments to the Treasury by Government corporations and agencies that borrow from the Treasury (see Table XIII, page 19 for details). This reporting change does not affect the budget surplus or deficit. The interfund transactions deducted under this procedure do not include payments to the Treasury by wholly-owned Government corporations for retirement of their capital stock and for disposition of earnings. These capital transfers have been excluded from budget receipts and expenditures since July 1, 1948.

²Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See footnote 1.
⁴For details see Table III.
⁵Transactions cover the period July 1, 1961 through May 25, 1962, and are partially estimated.
⁶Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on May 31, 1962 amounted to $434,028,038. The statutory debt limitations in effect during the period covered by this table and the date when each became effective are as follows: $290 billion on June 30, 1959; $295 billion on July 1, 1959; $293 billion on July 1, 1960. From July 1, 1961 to March 13, 1962, $298 billion; for the remainder of the fiscal year 1962 the limit is $300 billion. On July 1, 1962 it will revert to $285 billion.
⁷Revised due to reclassification.

⁶Distribution between income taxes and employment taxes made in accordance with provisions of Sec. 201 of the Social Security Act as amended for transfer to the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund and the Federal Disability Insurance Trust Fund.

⁷Beginning with the statement for January 1962, amounts representing refunds of principal for overpayment of taxes formerly reported net of reimbursements from trust fund accounts are now shown on a gross basis. These reimbursements to Internal Revenue Service for refunds are now included and netted with amounts shown for transfers to the respective trust fund accounts.

⁸Represents appropriations of receipts under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act to the Unemployment Trust Fund as provided under Sec. 901(b) of the Social Security Act, as amended September 13, 1960.

⁹Classifications in this statement have been revised to agree with classifications in the 1963 Budget Document. Where no figures appear on certain lines there was either no activity reported or comparative figures are not available on account of changes in classification.

¹⁰Includes $12,070,611 transferred to Agriculture Department, Food Stamp Program (Sec. 32 of the Act of August 24, 1935, as amended, 7 USC 612). See page 10.

¹¹Represents residual of gross receipts and expenditures after reduction for certain costs which are included in amounts shown for special activities.

¹²Includes certain costs transferred from price support operations for which expenditures may have been made in prior years, in addition to adjustments for prior months' transactions.

¹³The greater part of Bureau of Public Roads expenditures are made from Highway Trust Fund, page 11.

¹⁴Represents estimated adjustments to reclassify expenditures for comparability with the latest approved budget appropriation structure. These adjustments are made between the major categories of expenditures and, therefore, do not affect the total expenditures for military functions. Amounts shown for the respective Departments represent the expenditures as recorded in books of account of the Departments and do not include any adjustments for comparability.

¹⁵Represents net cash transactions under provisions of Sec. 2(a)(3) of Public Law 85-141, approved August 14, 1957.

¹⁶Gives effect to reimbursements collected for administrative support furnished to other agencies amounting to approximately $50,835,905.

¹⁷Expenditures are stated on an accrual basis.

¹ Beginning with the statement for December 31, 1958, the computed average interest rate on the public debt is based upon the rate of effective yield for issues sold at premiums or discounts. Prior to December 31, 1958, the computed average rate was based upon the coupon rates of the securities. This rate did not materially differ from the rate computed on the basis of effective yield. The Treasury, however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will more accurately reflect the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

² Computed on true discount basis.

³ Statutory debt limit, established at $285 billion by the Act approved June 30, 1959, has been temporarily increased as follows: From July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961 to $293 billion; from July 1, 1961 to March 13, 1962 to $298 billion; for the remainder of the fiscal year 1962 the limit is $300 billion. On July 1, 1962 it will revert to $285 billion.

⁴ Dollar equivalent of certificates issued and payable in the amount of 46,500,000,000 Italian lire.

This statement contains the final figures showing budget results for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1962. The differences between the final results as shown in this statement and the preliminary figures released in July are due to inclusion in the final accounts of Government disbursing, collecting, and administrative agencies certain receipts and disbursements, including overseas transactions, reports of which were not available when the preliminary statement was released.

FOOTNOTES

*From revised Budget estimates released November 13, 1962.
 From 1963 Budget Document released January 18, 1962.
¹Beginning with the Monthly Statement for July 1960, and incorporated in the final statement for the fiscal year 1960 (released December 6, 1960), totals shown for net budget receipts and budget expenditures exclude certain interfund transactions which are included in the detail of both budget receipts and budget expenditures. The transactions deducted consist mainly of interest payments to the Treasury by Government corporations and agencies that borrow from the Treasury (see Table XIII, page 19 for details). This reporting change does not affect the budget surplus or deficit. The interfund transactions deducted under this procedure do not include payments to the Treasury by wholly-owned Government corporations for redemption of their capital stock and for disposition of earnings. These capital transfers have been excluded from budget receipts and expenditures since July 1, 1948.

²Figures have been revised to exclude certain interfund transactions. See footnote 1.
⁴For details see Table III.
⁵Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on June 30, 1962 amounted to $433,274,382.65. The statutory debt limitations in effect during the period covered by this table and the date when each became effective are as follows: $290 billion on June 30, 1959; $295 billion on July 1, 1959; $293 billion on July 1, 1960; $298 billion on July 1, 1961; and $300 billion on March 13, 1962. The limit is $308 billion from July 1, 1962, through March 31, 1963; $305 billion from April 1 through June 24, 1963, and $300 billion from June 25 through June 30, 1963.

¹ Distribution between income taxes and employment taxes made in accordance with provisions of Sec. 201 of the Social Security Act as amended for transfer to the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund and the Federal Disability Insurance Trust Fund.

² "Individual income taxes withheld" have been increased $89,996,946.34 to correct estimates for quarter ending September 1961 and prior and "Individual income taxes other" have been decreased $11,688,431.02 to correct estimates for calendar year 1960 and prior. The total of the above adjustments ($77,708,515.32) is shown as a decrease of employment taxes under "Federal Insurance Contributions Act and Self-Employment Contributions Act" representing decreases in appropriations of $70,157,035.90 for the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund and $7,551,479.42 for the Federal Disability Insurance Trust Fund.

³ Beginning with the statement for January 1962, amounts representing refunds of principal for overpayment of taxes formerly reported net of reimbursements from trust fund accounts are now shown on a gross basis. These reimbursements to Internal Revenue Service for refunds are now included and netted with amounts shown for transfers to the respective trust fund accounts.

⁴ Represents appropriations of receipts under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act to the Unemployment Trust Fund as provided under Sec. 901(b) of the Social Security Act, as amended September 13, 1960.

⁵ Classifications in this statement have been revised to agree with classifications in the 1963 Budget Document. Where no figures appear on certain lines there was either no activity reported or comparative figures are not available on account of changes in classification.

¹⁰ Formerly shown under Interior Department, National Park Service.

¹¹ Formerly shown under Defense Department, Civil defense procurement fund.

¹² Includes $13,152,663.70 transferred to Agriculture Department, Food Stamp Program (Sec. 32 of the Act of August 24, 1935, as amended, 7 USC 612). See page 10.

¹³ Represents residual of gross receipts and expenditures after reduction for certain costs which are included in amounts shown for special activities.

¹⁴ Includes certain costs transferred from price support operations for which expenditures may have been made in prior years, in addition to adjustments for prior months' transactions.

¹⁵ The greater part of Bureau of Public Roads expenditures are made from Highway Trust Fund, page 11.

¹⁶ Represents estimated adjustments to reclassify expenditures for comparability with the latest approved budget appropriation structure. These adjustments are made between the major categories of expenditures and, therefore, do not affect the total expenditures for military functions. Amounts shown for the respective Departments represent the expenditures as recorded in books of account of the Departments and do not include any adjustments for comparability.

¹⁷ Represents net cash transactions under provisions of Sec. 2(a)(3) of Public Law 85-141, approved August 14, 1957.

¹⁸ Gives effect to reimbursements collected for administrative support furnished to other agencies amounting to $85,604,560.33.

¹⁹ Expenditures are stated on an accrual basis.

¹ Beginning with the statement for December 31, 1958, the computed average interest rate on the public debt is based upon the rate of effective yield for issues sold at premiums or discounts. Prior to December 31, 1958, the computed average rate was based upon the coupon rates of the securities. This rate did not materially differ from the rate computed on the basis of effective yield. The Treasury, however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will more accurately reflect the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

² Computed on true discount basis.

³ Statutory debt limit, established at $285 billion by the Act approved June 30, 1959, has been temporarily increased as follows: From July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961 to $293 billion; from July 1, 1961 to March 13, 1962 to $298 billion; for the remainder of the fiscal year 1962 the limit is $300 billion.

⁴ Dollar equivalent of certificates issued and payable in the amount of 46,500,000,000 Italian lire.

FOOTNOTES

*From 1963 Budget Document released January 18, 1962.

²These figures are preliminary and will be revised and published in a final statement which will include certain overseas and other transactions as reported in final reports of Government disbursing, collecting and administrative agencies.

⁴For details see Table III.

⁵Transactions cover the period July 1 through 20, 1962, and are partially estimated.

⁶Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on July 31, 1962 amounted to $432,602,363. The statutory debt limit, established at $285 billion by the Act approved June 30, 1959, has been temporarily increased from July 1, 1962, to March 31, 1963, to $308 billion; from April 1, 1963, to June 24, 1963, to $305 billion and from June 25, 1963, to June 30, 1963, to $300 billion.

⁶ Distribution between income taxes and employment taxes made in accordance with provisions of Sec. 201 of the Social Security Act as amended for transfer to the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund and the Federal Disability Insurance Trust Fund.
⁷ Beginning with the statement for January 1962, amounts representing refunds of principal for overpayment of taxes formerly reported net of reimbursements from trust fund accounts are now shown on a gross basis. These reimbursements to Internal Revenue Service for refunds are now included and netted with amounts shown for transfers to the respective trust fund accounts.
⁸ Represents appropriations of receipts under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act to the Unemployment Trust Funds as provided under Sec. 901(b) of the Social Security Act, as amended September 13, 1960.
⁹ Classifications in this statement have been revised to agree with classifications in the 1963 Budget Document. Where no figures appear on certain lines there was either no activity reported or comparative figures are not available on account of changes in classification.
¹⁰ Includes $1,095,319 transferred to Agriculture Department, Food Stamp Program (Sec. 32 of the Act of August 24, 1935, as amended, 7 USC 612). See page 10.
¹¹ Represents residual of gross receipts and expenditures after reduction for certain costs which are included in amounts shown for special activities.

¹³ The greater part of Bureau of Public Roads expenditures are made from Highway Trust Fund, page 11.
¹⁴ Represents estimated adjustments to reclassify expenditures for comparability with the latest budget appropriation structure. These adjustments are made between the major categories of expenditures and, therefore, do not affect the total expenditures for military functions. Amounts shown for the respective Departments represent the expenditures as recorded in books of account of the Departments and do not include any adjustments for comparability.
¹⁵ Represents net cash transactions under provisions of Sec. 2(a) (3) of Public Law 85-141, approved August 14, 1957.
¹⁶ Report of expenditures was not received in time to be included in this statement.
¹⁷ Gives effect to reimbursements collected for administrative support furnished to other agencies amounting to approximately $3,352,571.
¹⁸ Expenditures are stated on an accrual basis.

¹ Beginning with the statement for December 31, 1958, the computed average interest rate on the public debt is based upon the rate of effective yield for issues sold at premiums or discounts. Prior to December 31, 1958, the computed average rate was based upon the coupon rates of the securities. This rate did not materially differ from the rate computed on the basis of effective yield. The Treasury, however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will more accurately reflect the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

² Computed on true discount basis

³ Statutory debt limit, established at $285 billion by the Act approved June 30, 1959, has been temporarily increased from July 1, 1962, to March 31, 1963, to $308 billion; from April 1, 1963, to June 24, 1963, to $305 billion and from June 25, 1963, to June 30, 1963, to $300 billion.

⁴ Dollar equivalent of certificates issued and payable in the amount of 46,500,000,000 Italian lire.

* From 1963 Budget Document released January 18, 1962.

² These figures are preliminary and will be revised and published in a final statement which will include certain overseas and other transactions as reported in final reports of Government disbursing, collecting and administrative agencies.

⁴ For details see Table III.

⁵ Transactions cover the period July 1 through August 17, 1962, and are partially estimated.

⁶ Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on August 31, 1962 amounted to $373,961,345. The statutory debt limit, established at $285 billion by the Act approved June 30, 1959, has been temporarily increased from July 1, 1962, to March 31, 1963, to $308 billion; from April 1, 1963, to June 24, 1963, to $305 billion and from June 25, 1963, to June 30, 1963, to $300 billion.

⁶ Distribution between income taxes and employment taxes made in accordance with provisions of Sec. 201 of the Social Security Act as amended for transfer to the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund and the Federal Disability Insurance Trust Fund.

⁷ Amounts shown give effect to the reclassification of prior year receipts.

⁸ Beginning with the statement for January 1962, amounts representing refunds of principal for overpayment of taxes formerly reported net of reimbursements from trust fund accounts are now shown on a gross basis. These reimbursements to Internal Revenue Service for refunds are now included and netted with amounts shown for transfers to the respective trust fund accounts.

⁹ Represents appropriations of receipts under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act to the Unemployment Trust Fund as provided under Sec. 901(b) of the Social Security Act, as amended September 13, 1960.

¹¹ Includes $2,210,257 transferred to Agriculture Department, Food Stamp Program (Sec. 32 of the Act of August 24, 1935, as amended, 7 USC 612). See page 10.

¹² Represents residual of gross receipts and expenditures after reduction for certain costs which are included in amounts shown for special activities.

¹⁴ The greater part of Bureau of Public Roads expenditures are made from Highway Trust Fund, page 11.

¹⁶ Represents net cash transactions under provisions of Sec. 2(a) (3) of Public Law 85-141, approved August 14, 1957.

¹⁷ Includes Area Redevelopment activities formerly shown under Office of the Secretary.

¹⁸ Gives effect to reimbursements collected for administrative support furnished to other agencies amounting to approximately $3,723,098.

¹⁹ Expenditures are stated on an accrual basis.

¹ Beginning with the statement for December 31, 1958, the computed average interest rate on the public debt is based upon the rate of effective yield for issues sold at premiums or discounts. Prior to December 31, 1958, the computed average rate was based upon the coupon rates of the securities. This rate did not materially differ from the rate computed on the basis of effective yield. The Treasury, however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will more accurately reflect the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

² Computed on true discount basis.
³ Statutory debt limit, established at $285 billion by the Act approved June 30, 1959, has been temporarily increased from July 1, 1962, to March 31, 1963, to $308 billion; from April 1, 1963 to June 24, 1963, to $305 billion and from June 25, 1963, to June 30, 1963, to $300 billion.
⁴ Dollar equivalent of certificates issued and payable in the amount of 93,000,000,000 Italian lire.

¹ From 1963 Budget Document released January 18, 1962. Beginning with the Monthly Statement for July 1960, and incorporated in the final statement for the fiscal year 1960 (released September 6, 1960), totals shown for net budget receipts and budget expenditures exclude certain interfund transactions which are included in the detail of both budget receipts and budget expenditures. The transactions deducted consist mainly of interest payments to the Treasury by Government corporations and agencies that borrow from the Treasury (see Table XIII, page 19 for details). This reporting change does not affect the budget surplus or deficit. The interfund transactions deducted under this procedure do not include payments to the Treasury by wholly owned Government corporations for redemption of their capital stock and for disposition of earnings. These capital transfers have been excluded from budget receipts and expenditures since July 1, 1948.

² These figures are preliminary and will be revised and published in a final statement which will include certain overseas and other transactions as reported in final reports of Government disbursing, collecting and administrative agencies.

⁴ For details see Table III.

⁵ Transactions cover the period July 1 through September 14, 1962, and are partially estimated.

⁶ Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on September 30, 1962 amounted to $373,498,784. The statutory debt limit, established at $285 billion by the Act approved June 30, 1959, has been temporarily increased from July 1, 1962, to March 31, 1963, to $308 billion; from April 1, 1963, to June 24, 1963, to $305 billion and from June 25, 1963, to June 30, 1963, to $300 billion.

¹ Beginning with the statement for December 31, 1958, the computed average interest rate on the public debt is based upon the rate of effective yield for issues sold at premiums or discounts. Prior to December 31, 1958, the computed average rate was based upon the coupon rates of the securities. This rate did not materially differ from the rate computed on the basis of effective yield. The Treasury, however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will more accurately reflect the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

² Computed on true discount basis.

³ Statutory debt limit, established at $285 billion by the Act approved June 30, 1959, has been temporarily increased from July 1, 1962, to March 31, 1963, to $308 billion; from April 1, 1963 to June 24, 1963, to $305 billion and from June 25, 1963, to June 30, 1963, to $300 billion.

⁴ Dollar equivalent of certificates issued and payable in the amount of 93,000,000,000 Italian lire.

*From revised budget estimates released November 13, 1962.
¹Beginning with the Monthly Statement for July 1960, and incorporated in the final statement for the fiscal year 1960 (released December 6, 1960), totals shown for net budget receipts and budget expenditures exclude certain interfund transactions which are included in the detail of both budget receipts and budget expenditures. The transactions deducted consist mainly of interest payments to the Treasury by Government corporations and agencies that borrow from the Treasury (see Table XIII, page 19 for details). This reporting change does not affect the budget surplus or deficit. The interfund transactions deducted under this procedure do not include payments to the Treasury by wholly owned Government corporations for retirement of their capital stock and for disposition of earnings. These capital transfers have been excluded from budget receipts and expenditures since July 1, 1948.

²These figures are preliminary and will be revised and published in a final statement which will include certain overseas and other transactions as reported in final reports of Government disbursing, collecting and administrative agencies.

⁴For details see Table III.

⁵Transactions cover the period July 1 through October 12, 1962, and are partially estimated.

⁶Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on October 30, 1962 amounted to $372,483,667. The statutory debt limit, established at $285 billion by the Act approved June 30, 1959, has been temporarily increased from July 1, 1962, to March 31, 1963, to $308 billion; from April 1, 1963, to June 24, 1963, to $305 billion and from June 25, 1963, to June 30, 1963, to $300 billion.

⁶Distribution between income taxes and employment taxes made in accordance with provisions of Sec. 201 of the Social Security Act as amended for transfer to the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund and the Federal Disability Insurance Trust Fund.

⁷"Individual income taxes withheld" have been decreased $142,070,320 to correct estimates for the quarter ended December 1961 and prior, and "Individual income taxes other" have been decreased $3,930,991 to correct estimates for the calendar year 1960 and prior. The net total of the above adjustments ($146,001,311) is shown as an increase of employment taxes under "Federal Insurance Contributions Act and Self-Employment Contributions Act" representing increases in appropriations of $133,825,213 for the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund and $12,176,097 for the Federal Disability Insurance Trust Fund.

⁸Beginning with the statement for January 1962, amounts representing refunds of principal for overpayment of taxes formerly reported net of reimbursements from trust fund accounts are now shown on a gross basis. These reimbursements to Internal Revenue Service for refunds are now included and netted with amounts shown for transfers to the respective trust fund accounts.

⁹Represents appropriations of receipts under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act to the Unemployment Trust Fund as provided under Sec. 901(b) of the Social Security Act, as amended September 13, 1960.

¹⁰Classifications in this statement have been revised to agree with classifications in the 1963 Budget Document. Where no figures appear on certain lines there was either no activity reported or comparative figures are not available on account of changes in classification.

¹¹Formerly shown under Interior Department, National Park Service.

¹²Report of expenditures was not received in time to be included in this statement.

¹³Includes $4,218,364 transferred to Agriculture Department, Food Stamp Program (Sec. 32 of the Act of August 24, 1935, as amended, 7 USC 612). See page 10.

¹⁴Represents residual of gross receipts and expenditures after reduction for certain costs which are included in amounts shown for special activities.

¹⁵Includes certain costs transferred from price support operations for which expenditures may have been made in prior years, in addition to adjustments for prior months' transactions.

¹⁶The greater part of Bureau of Public Roads expenditures are made from Highway Trust Fund, page 11.

¹⁷Represents estimated adjustments to reclassify expenditures for comparability with the latest budget appropriation structure. These adjustments are made between the major categories of expenditures and, therefore, do not affect the total expenditures for military functions. Amounts shown for the respective Departments represent the expenditures as recorded in books of account of the Departments and do not include any adjustments for comparability.

¹⁸Represents net cash transactions under provisions of Sec. 2(a)(3) of Public Law 85-141, approved August 14, 1957.

²⁰Gives effect to reimbursements collected for administrative support furnished to other agencies amounting to approximately $9,248,899.

²¹Expenditures are stated on an accrual basis.

²²In accordance with Public Law 87-343, October 3, 1961, the investment funds for Federal intermediate credit banks and Production credit associations are combined in "Short term credit investment fund."

¹ Beginning with the statement for December 31, 1958, the computed average interest rate on the public debt is based upon the rate of effective yield for issues sold at premiums or discounts. Prior to December 31, 1958, the computed average rate was based upon the coupon rates of the securities. This rate did not materially differ from the rate computed on the basis of effective yield. The Treasury, however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will more accurately reflect the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

² Computed on true discount basis.

³ Statutory debt limit, established at $285 billion by the Act approved June 30, 1959, has been temporarily increased from July 1, 1962, to March 31, 1963, to $308 billion; from April 1, 1963 to June 24, 1963, to $305 billion and from June 25, 1963, to June 30, 1963, to $300 billion.

⁴ Dollar equivalent of certificates issued and payable in the amount of 77,500,000,000 Italian lire and 207,000,000 Swiss francs.

⁵ Dollar equivalent of certificates issued and payable in the amount of 200,000,000 Swiss francs.

⁶ Dollar equivalent of Treasury bonds issued and payable in the amount of 15,500,000,000 Italian lire and 100,000,000 Swiss francs.

*From revised budget estimates released November 13, 1962.

⁴ Transactions cover the period July 1 through November 9, 1962, and are partially estimated.
^a Includes debt not subject to statutory limitation, which on November 30, 1962 amounted to $371,956,195. The statutory debt limitations in effect during the period covered by this table and the date when each became effective are as follows: $295 billion on July 1, 1959; $293 billion on July 1, 1960; $298 billion on July 1, 1961; and $300 billion on March 13, 1962. The limit is $308 billion from July 1, 1962 through March 31, 1963; $305 billion from April 1 through June 24, 1963, and $300 billion from June 25 through June 30, 1963.

⁵ Distribution between income taxes and employment taxes made in accordance with provisions of Sec. 201 of the Social Security Act as amended for transfer to the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund and the Federal Disability Insurance Trust Fund.

⁶ Beginning with the statement for January 1962, amounts representing refunds of principal for overpayment of taxes formerly reported net of reimbursements from trust fund accounts are now shown on a gross basis. These reimbursements to Internal Revenue Service for refunds are now included and netted with amounts shown for transfers to the respective trust fund accounts.

⁷ Negative amount due to the showing of gross amount of refunds applicable to trust fund accounts based on reimbursement figures of the trust funds during the month when the actual refunds made by Internal Revenue occurred in previous months or fiscal years. See footnote 6.

⁸ Represents appropriations of receipts under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act to the Unemployment Trust Fund as provided under Sec. 901(b) of the Social Security Act, as amended September 13, 1960.

⁹ Classifications in this statement have been revised to agree with classifications in the 1963 Budget Document. Where no figures appear on certain lines there was either no activity reported or comparative figures are not available on account of changes in classification.

¹⁰ Formerly shown under Interior Department, National Park Service.

¹¹ Includes $5,378,772 transferred to Agriculture Department, Food Stamp Program (Sec. 32 of the Act of August 24, 1935, as amended, 7 USC 612). See page 10.

¹² Represents residual of gross receipts and expenditures after reduction for certain costs which are included in amounts shown for special activities.

¹⁴ The greater part of Bureau of Public Roads expenditures are made from Highway Trust Fund, page 11.

¹⁵ Represents estimated adjustments to reclassify expenditures for comparability with the latest budget appropriation structure. These adjustments are made between the major categories of expenditures and, therefore, do not affect the total expenditures for military functions. Amounts shown for the respective Departments represent the expenditures as recorded in books of account of the Departments and do not include any adjustments for comparability.

¹⁶ Represents net cash transactions under provisions of Sec. 2(a)(3) of Public Law 85-141, approved August 14, 1957.

¹⁷ Adjustment due to reclassification.

¹⁸ Includes Area Redevelopment activities formerly shown under Office of the Secretary.

¹⁹ Gives effect to reimbursements collected for administrative support furnished to other agencies amounting to approximately $12,730,195.

²⁰ Expenditures are stated on an accrual basis.

²¹ In accordance with Public Law 87-343, October 3, 1961, the investment funds for Federal intermediate credit banks and Production credit associations are combined in "Short term credit investment fund."

¹ Beginning with the statement for December 31, 1958, the computed average interest rate on the public debt is based upon the rate of effective yield for issues sold at premiums or discounts. Prior to December 31, 1958, the computed average rate was based upon the coupon rates of the securities. This rate did not materially differ from the rate computed on the basis of effective yield. The Treasury, however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will more accurately reflect the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

² Computed on true discount basis.

³ Statutory debt limit, established at $285 billion by the Act approved June 30, 1959, has been temporarily increased from July 1, 1962, to March 31, 1963, to $308 billion; from April 1, 1963 to June 24, 1963, to $305 billion and from June 25, 1963, to June 30, 1963, to $300 billion.

⁴ Dollar equivalent of certificates issued and payable in the amount of 31,000,000,000 Italian lire and 207,000,000 Swiss francs.

⁵ Dollar equivalent of certificates issued and payable in the amount of 200,000,000 Swiss francs.

⁶ Dollar equivalent of Treasury bonds issued and payable in the amount of 93,050,000,000 Italian lire and 220,000,000 Swiss francs.

*From 1964 Budget Document released January 17, 1963.

⁵ Transactions cover the period July 1 through December 7, 1962, and are partially estimated.
⁶ Includes debt not subject to limitation, which on December 31, 1962 amounted to $371,635,152. The statutory debt limitations in effect during the period covered by this table and the date when each became effective are as follows: $295 billion on July 1, 1959; $293 billion on July 1, 1960; $298 billion on July 1, 1961; and $300 billion on March 13, 1962. The limit is $308 billion from July 1, 1962 through March 31, 1963; $305 billion from April 1 through June 24, 1963, and $300 billion from June 25 through June 30, 1963. Under proposed legislation the statutory debt limitation for June 30, 1963 as estimated in the 1964 Budget Document is $308 billion.

Beginning with the statement for December 31, 1958, the computed average interest rate on the public debt is based upon the rate of effective yield for issues sold at premiums or discounts. Prior to December 31, 1958, the computed average rate was based upon the coupon rates of the securities. This rate did not materially differ from the rate computed on the basis of effective yield. The Treasury, however, announced on November 18, 1958, that there may be more frequent issues of securities sold with premiums or discounts whenever appropriate. This "effective-yield" method of computing the average interest rate on the public debt will more accurately reflect the interest cost to the Treasury, and is felt to be in accord with the intent of Congress where legislation has required the use of such rate for various purposes.

² Computed on true discount basis.

³ Statutory debt limit established at $285 billion by Act of June 30, 1959, temporarily increased to $308 billion from July 1, 1962, to March 31, 1963; to $305 billion from April 1, 1963, to June 24, 1963; and to $300 billion from June 25, 1963, to June 30, 1963.

⁴ Dollar equivalent of certificates issued and payable in the amount of 207,000,000 Swiss francs.

⁵ Dollar equivalent of certificates issued and payable in the amount of 200,000,000 Swiss francs.

⁶ Dollar equivalent of Treasury bonds issued and payable in the amount of 124,050,000,000 Italian lire and 220,000,000 Swiss francs.
